Dear Parents

Over the few weeks before half term we experienced a number of friendship problems due to messages sent via Facebook the previous evening.

I have been asked to remind you that the legal age for using Facebook is 13. If, with this knowledge, you still allow your child to use this and other social networking sites then could I please ask that you talk to your child about its appropriate use.

We are wasting a lot of valuable lesson time trying to sort out friendship problems and would appreciate your support to alleviate this problem.

Many thanks

Yours sincerely
